SECTION M - EVALUATION FACTORS FOR AWARD:

1. 5.0 Past Performance, replace the first paragraph with the following:

Under the Past Performance factor, the Performance Confidence Assessment represents the evaluation of an Offeror's present and past work record to assess the Government's confidence the Offeror will successfully perform as proposed. The Government will evaluate each Offeror's demonstrated record of contract compliance in supplying products and services that meet user's needs, including cost and schedule. The Past Performance Evaluation is accomplished by reviewing aspects of an Offeror's relevant present and recent past performance, focusing on and targeting performance which is relevant to the Mission Capability subfactors, and the requirements of this solicitation. The Government may consider as relevant efforts performed for agencies of federal, state, or local Governments and commercial customers. As a result of an analysis of this past/current work history, each Offeror will receive a Performance Confidence Assessment, which is the rating for the Past Performance factor. Although the past performance evaluation focuses on performance that is relevant to the Mission Capability subfactors, the resulting Performance Confidence Assessment is made at the factor level and represents an overall evaluation of the likelihood of successful contractor performance. The Government will evaluate current and past (within the last five years) performance to determine the Government's confidence in each Offeror's ability to successfully perform the SENSOR effort. The Government will assess the performance and relevancy of each Offeror's work on current and past contracts, both Government and Commercial. Before the Performance Risk Assessment Group (PRAG) can assess relevancy, the efforts performed by the primes must have been performed by the same division/location, on a similar contract type (e.g. Cost contracts for solicitations anticipating a cost contract award would be considered more relevant) and dollar value (see criteria below) as SENSOR within the past five years. This information may include data on efforts performed by other divisions, critical subcontractors, or teaming contractors, if such resources will be brought to bear or significantly influence the performance of the proposed effort. Past performance for other divisions, critical subcontractors, or teaming contractors must be for the same type of effort as is proposed for SENSOR, and will be assessed as either relevant or not relevant. In order for a subcontractor's effort to be considered Relevant, the work must have been performed by the same division/location being proposed, within the past five years, and must have been the same type effort proposed for the SENSOR program. The PRAG will then determine relevancy for the prime contractor's efforts in accordance with the following criteria:

- a. Phased-Array Radar System sustainment or modernization
- b. Mechanical Radar System sustainment or modernization
- c. Optical Sensor System sustainment or modernization
- d. Management of complex interrelationships with other programs and systems
- e. Management of staff and resources in the face of fluctuating budget baselines
- f. Software development, integration and maintenance
- g. Management of legacy software baselines
- h. Similar average annual cost/price ($38M) within the past five years
